1. Introduction

Legal Services Authorities provide legal services to accused/convicts, who are in custody or otherwise coming within the eligibility criteria spelt out in Section 12 of the Legal Services Authorities Act, 1987. Legal Services are being provided at pre-arrest remand, trial and appellate stages in criminal matters. Legal representation is being provided by the Legal Services Authorities in approximately 2 lac criminal cases (trials) at the district level.

During Consideration of the Demands for Grants (2022-23) of the Department of Justice by the DRPSC on Personal, Public Grievances, Law and Justice has also observed in 116th report that:

"NALSA has recently completed 25 years of its establishment; accordingly, it is also the right time to ponder over reforms which are required in NALSA and legal aid movement in India. Majority of Indians are eligible to receive legal aid, but the number of people actually receiving legal aid is a miniscule percentage of those entitled. In the previous chapter, the Committee has already recommended a significant increase in NALSA's budget and expects NALSA to make best use of it in performing its assigned mandate."

At present, Assigned Counsel System of delivery of Legal Aid is being followed in India. Under the said system, cases are assigned to panel lawyers by Legal Services Institutions. Panel lawyers to whom cases are assigned by the Legal Services Authorities also have private practices, and hence, they do not exclusively devote their time to the legal aided matters. Many times their accessibility and availability remains an issue for timely client consultation and updating legal aid seekers about the progress of their cases. There are few instances, wherein the lawyers found harassing beneficiaries or demanding fee from them. It also comes in the way of effective monitoring of legal aided cases.

The Court based legal services need to be strengthened for providing effective and efficient legal services to weaker and marginalised sections of society. To achieve the same, several steps have been taken such as capacity building of lawyers, enhancing the structure and effective functioning of monitoring & mentoring committees, upgradation of Front Offices etc.

In the said process of strengthening and making legal services more professional, NALSA adopted a legal aid delivery based model i.e. Legal aid Defense Counsel System for providing legal aid in criminal matters on the lines of public defender system on pilot basis for a period of two years.

It is pertinent to mention that in most countries, Legal Aid Delivery Models are combination of the Public Defender System, Assigned Counsel System and Contract Services System. Examples of diverse legal aid delivery systems can be found, among other countries, in Israel, the Republic of Moldova, Sierra Leone, South Africa and the United States of America. A number of jurisdictions have adopted a public defender scheme with offices throughout the country, including Argentina Chile, Georgia, Mexico, Paraguay, Peru, the Philippines, the Republic of Moldova and South Africa¹.

As envisaged, Legal Aid Defense Counsel System involve full time engagement of lawyers with support system. The said unit deals exclusively with legal aid work in criminal matters either in the district or at the HQ, where it is situated. Initially, it was confined to cases before the Sessions, and now it is expanded to Magistrate's courts with Lawyers engaged therein not allowed to take any private cases or any other retainership. The unit has created institutional capacity to effectively provide legal aid to needy in criminal justice system. Some of the perceived advantages of the Legal aid Defense Counsel System vis-à-vis assigned counsel system may be mentioned as follows:

- Increase in Availability and accessibility of Legal Aid Defense counsel,
- Effective and efficient representation by experienced lawyers,

¹ Model Law on Legal Aid in Criminal Justice Systems with Commentaries(www.unodc.org)

- Timely and effective Client Consultations,
- Effective monitoring and mentoring of legal aided cases,
- Professional management of legal aid work in criminal matters,
- Enhanced responsiveness leading to updating of legal aid seekers about the progress of their cases,
- Ensuring accountability on the part of the legal aid providers.
